Qubus Design Studio
100% Design

A simple bucket, which has not changed through the ages, fascinated designer Jakub Berdych when he saw it used to display flowers in a florist. Being interested in contradictions and juxtaposition in design, Berdych added a classically shaped top to elevate and dignify the bucket, turning an ordinary, even ugly object into something beautiful and new. Tops are available in clear glass, yellow and black; buckets are available in white brown and red.

Decipher
100% Design

New to 100% Design was Decipher. Their debut range Elter, a selection of tables designed by Michael Thorpe and inspired by stone from the Lake District. Manufactured in Corian, Elter tables are seamless and the play of light on their inter-locking planes gives a sculptural quality. The tables are hand-finished in Britain in a range of colours. Decipher will be releasing various projects in the future.

Rustic Bench is unique outdoor furniture utilising the oxidation process to create "living furniture". Exposed to the elements, the pattern on the bench will slowly reveal itself and is designed to mature within its environment. Made from stainless steel, this durable bench is long-lasting and can be commissioned to meet bespoke requirements for both commercial and domestic spaces.
